MEMPHIS APPEAL.

BON MOT.

An article by the ousted Treasurer of Arkansas appeared in the Little Rock Gazette a few days since, containing a demonstration in figures that the appointment, by Gen. Ord, of Col. Henry Page, Military Treasurer, and removal of people's money to the National Bank in that city, had been for the benefit of said bank, of which members of Gen. Ord's staff were the founders and stockholders, and the bank by its own report was out $27,000 of the people's money, placed in its vault by military orders. Col. Page, recently chosen Radical Treasurer, saw fit to take exceptions to the article, and approached the editor of the Gazette in a manner not pleasant to Woodruff, the latter, although it might not have been intended to be insulting, whereupon he got a black eye, which was a poser, instantly.

Said his friend, an attorney, subsequently to the editor, "and so you dotted another 'i' on the page of Radicalism to-day."

Editor (deaf)—"I am not good at punctuation."

Attorney—"You intended to make a period?"

Editor—"Yes, I meant a full stop."

A SPRINKLE OF WAR.

We learn by our Nashville exchanges that for threatening language, an old negro man, living near Chapel Hill, forty-one miles from Nashville, was taken out and whipped by several men disguised, who, on administering the fourth blow, were fired on from an unpected quarter, and some of them wounded. The man was released, and the supposed Ku-kluxes separated. The Banner says:

On Tuesday afternoon eighteen negroes, armed with muskets and pistols, marched upon the pike a short distance from Chapel Hill, and announced that they intended to kill all the Ku-klux in that vicinity. As soon as this was known in town fourteen whites took their shot guns and pistols and proceeded in double quick to meet the dusky warriors, but the latter having received news of the advance of the white party, retreated into the woods, and secreted themselves in a ravine. After diligent search the whites came suddenly upon the blacks, and firing immediately commenced on both sides. It is reported that four or five of the white men were killed and wounded. The loss of the negroes is not known. Runners were sent out at about four o'clock yesterday morning, when the stage left that place, to secure heavy reinforcements of whites A bloody fight was expected yesterday.

The affair was very much regretted by a majority of the citizens, who discouraged the demonstrations made by both hostile parties.

NEW INDIAN TERRITORY.

Mr. Van Horn, from the Committee on Indian Affairs, has reported a bill to consolidate the Indian tribes and organize a system of government in the Indian Territory, to be known as the Territory of Ok-la-homa. The tribes in such Territory are to retain all rights secured to them by treaty. Subject to these, the government of the Territory is to be vested in a Governor appointed by the President, a Secretary appointed in like manner, and a Legislative Council composed of one member from each tribe of more than 500 persons, and an additional member for every 1000 persons, or by the chiefs of the tribes as selected by tribal usage. Every adult male Indian shall be entitled to vote for or be elected a member to the Council. The laws to be passed by the Territorial Council shall not interfere with the tribal organization, nor annul tribal laws, save to a limited extent. Justices of the Territory and Courts are provided for in the usual manner, and the Legislative Council elects a delegate to Congress. The bill appears to aim at combining the tribal with territorial government, and, should it succeed, would inaugurate a new mode of treating the Indian question.

The Indian Territory thus to be created will include the country west of Arkansas, owned by the Cherokees, Creeks, Seminoles, Choctaws and Chickasaws, extending from Arkansas to the lines of New Mexico and Texas. In many respects it is one of the finest countries in the world, and is hereafter to contribute greatly to the prosperity of Memphis, if Memphis has wit enough to take measures to open rail-road connections with it.

A WELL-TURNED RETORT.

The editor of the Alton Democrat, T. Dimmock, Esq., repudiated the idea of turning over the Democratic party to the support of Salmon P. Chase for the Presidency; being content with nothing else than a straight-out Democrat. The Springfield (Ill.) State Journal reminds him that he was an original Republican and Lincoln man, and should be more tolerant of those who repent at the eleventh hour, and chides him for rebuking "those bogus Democrats who are attempting to foist the special champion of negro suffrage on the Democratic party." In reference to himself he has the following manly showing, and draws a striking contrast between the mere partizan camp-follower and the true man of principle. There is a moral in the lesson that should not be lost:

The personal allusions to us contain nothing either particularly new or particularly interesting; as we have proclaimed the same facts in each of the divers and sundry speeches we have made in this section of Illinois during the past six years. In 1860 we honestly advocated the election of Mr. Lincoln, because we were fool enough to believe, as we did, that he and his party would adhere to the principles laid down in their platform. In 1861 we honestly advocated the Crittenden resolutions, because we were again fool enough to believe that this solemn declaration was something more than an impudent lie to be repudiated at the first convenient opportunity. When the issuance of the Emancipation Proclamation finally revealed the cloven foot, we deliberately went over from a triumphant to a defeated party, and left behind us whatever honor and profit we might have gained by adhering to those who held both purse and sword. We have never regretted that decision; we have always been proud that though led into "the first false step, we did not to hell's perdition go."

We are not surprised that the editor of the Journal is unable to appreciate the motives which dictated our action in this matter. He is troubled with a slight mental or moral obliquity of vision which prevents him from seeing the poor Right in the presence of the rich Wrong. In 1860-61, he thought as we did, and acted as we did. When the Republican party and Mr. Lincoln ignored their platform and broke their pledges, he prudently shut mouth and eyes, followed the winning side, and enjoyed the substantial fruits thereof, in the shape of heavy contracts and paying speculations. We do not blame him for clinging to the Mammon of unrighteousness and making all he could out of it. He is satisfied—so are we. He was faithful to pocket, we to principle—that is all the difference.

THE INDIANS.

From the New York Tribune.]

THE OSAGE LAND JOB.

To the Editor of the Tribune:

Sir: Having hitherto written you that the Osage Indians had sold their entire lands to the Leavenworth, Lawrence and Galveston Railway Company for a few cents per acre, let me now briefly narrate the strange circumstance which induced them to do so:

The Indians did not desire to sell at all, and all the efforts and temptings of the Government to induce them to send a delegation to Washington, to make a treaty for the sale, were in vain; but, finding the Government fatally bent on getting their lands, they were firmly resolved to sell but one half thereof, and quite as earnestly determined to receive $1 per acre therefor; and, upon this ultimatum of the tribe, the energetic and persistent Council apparently abandoned the project in despair. At just about this juncture two of the Osages, who were engaged in a thieving excursion in the neighborhood, killed one of the settlers; and this unfortunate circumstance was seized upon by the parasites of the Railroad Company to terrify the Indians into at once signing the treaty, under threats of the dire vengeance of the Government upon the whole tribe in expiation of the said murder, if they further resisted. It is scarcely needful to add that every Indian clamored lustily to "make his mark," and thus to avert the impending stroke of the nation's uplifted arm. Such was the foul means by which this nefarious treaty was made. Since my last communication, I have seen Father Shoenmaker, for twenty-nine years the pious and eminent missionary of the Osages, and he does not hesitate to make the following distinct avowments regarding this so-called treaty:

1. That the Indians would not have made it unless they had been forced thereto.

2. That two-fifths of the entire tract is of the highest order of farming and grazing lands, and adorned with the most picturesque beauty, and that the remaining three-fifths is of still greater mercantile value on account of its immense wealth of minerals.

3. That settlement on the trust lands will almost cease, and the country will relapse into a wilderness if this treaty is allowed to prevail.

4. That under no possible state of the case should a monopoly be allowed to engross this land, but that it should enure to the benefit of the people.

5. That if the Osages are sent to the region contemplated by this treaty, they will be exterminated within ten years by the Plains Indians, who intensely hate them.

6. The Osages had an earnest desire to preserve a home in the lands of their ancestors, and feel grief-stricken at being ejected therefrom. Father Schoenmaker was himself present with the Council for several days; but the strifes and quarrels of rival railway companies who were present, and the trafficking and dividing, in anticipation, of the many speculators and land-sharks who were also present, were so torturing to his sensitive, religious nature, that he was compelled to leave, which he did, several days before the final consummation.

Is there any ground for hope that the President and Senate, who have yet to do with this incipient treaty, will consider the foul iniquity of despoiling an oppressed and weak people of the last acres of land bequeathed to them by their fathers; and the still more grievous outrage of forever barring 9,000,000 fertile and beautiful acres from the ingress of the nation's poor? W.

LAWRENCE, KANSAS, June 6.

The Charities of New York.

From the N. Y. Tribune.]

A statement has been published recently from official reports of the sums contributed during the past year for the support of the local charities of this city. We reprint it below, with such corrections as we have been able to make from our own knowledge, but even yet it is by no means perfectly accurate:

New York Bible Society	$ 32,000 00
Female Bible Union	11,045 68
New York Orphan Asylum	40,492 38
Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals	13,138 9

Female City Mission	3,382 29
New York City Mission	37,075 54
City S. S. and Miss. Society of M. E. Church	65,766 95
New York Branch of Freedmen's Commission	78,535 25
House of Industry at Five Points	33,568 27
Ladies' M. E. Mission	18,426 23
New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor	57,767 03
New York Female Dispensary	1,787 83
Mariners' Mission	8,093 61
Nursery and Child's Hospital	43,369 41
Seamen's Mariners' Home	18,291 17
Children's Aid Society	115,947 48
New York Juvenile Asylum	119,332 62
R. C. Protectory for Destitute Children	100,316 81
Ladies' Educational Union	15,686 91

Magdalen Society	9,000 00
Working Women's Home	4,220 98
Relief Society For Children of Seamen	13,809 92
Young Men's Christian Association	14,204 81
Wilson Mission	9,899 60
Total	$1,078,470 66

Several of the societies here enumerated are not strictly local in their sphere of operations, though they have their headquarters in this city, and derive most of their funds from the voluntary contributions of our citizens. Some of the largest sums which figure in the table were, moreover, obtained chiefly from the Legislature, and can hardly be considered charitable donations; but, on the other hand, there are many liberally supported institutions from which we have no returns whatever. For example, no Roman Catholic establishments are reported except the Protectory; yet it is well known that the Catholic body equals any other in the number and importance of its denominational charities: it has in this city thirty or forty charity schools, two orphan asylums, extensive organizations for the relief of the poor, a tract society, convents, etc., supported mainly by voluntary contributions. Moreover, out of the seven or eight millions annually given in the United States for the maintenance of missionary and benevolent enterprises whose labors are not confined to any particular city, it is estimated that New York gives the lion's share. The handsome total which appears in the above table is, therefore, undoubtedly much below the true measure of our liberality; the charitable gifts of New York are nearer three millions than one. In the prevailing corruption of official circles and the frivolous extravagance of private life, such tables of almsdeeds are particularly gratifying. Bad as our city is, there must be great good in it when so much of our substance is freely given for the relief of the ignorant and the needy.

Financial Breakers Ahead.

A hundred millions of taxation has been taken off, and that chiefly to benefit a small portion of the community—the manufacturers of the Eastern States—while the revenue is declining in every direction and nowhere coming up to the estimates. The expenditures have been increasing, and in the War Department enormously; the weight of the debt has been increased by the mismanagement of Mr. McCulloch, for the aggregate interest on the debt is much larger; the Treasury is being depleted and there is every prospect that within a short time the income of the Government will not meet the demands. If there be not some radical change for the better soon, the Treasury will be bankrupt. Looking at the extraordinary proceedings in Congress on the tax bill, revenue laws and other financial measures and at the incapacity of members, we fear the Government is approaching financial ruin. We advise the people to look out for breakers ahead.—New York Herald

—Admiral Farragut has invited King Leopold to review the squadron under his command. The King has accepted the invitation, and the review will take place at an early day in the harbor of Ostend.

Who Shall Be President?

For the Memphis Appeal.]

The question which is here asked sometimes resolves itself with some into: "Who can be President?"

The perverseness of human nature is forever manifesting itself. In one shape or another it is bound to crop out. In morals, in ethics, in politics, it is all the same—but now of politics.

Instead of being content with a popular candidate for the Presidency, our people seem difficult to please, and discover that it is hard to choose.

The difficulty of choice arises from two causes. 1. The fears of some that somebody might be elected. 2. The hopes of others that somebody cannot be elected.

And a third specification might be founded on the other two—the determination that nobody but a Radical, or one who will overthrow the old government shall be elected.

When the name of Pendleton was brought forward, it inspired wonderful enthusiasm. Political battles were fought and won, under that inspiration. The signs were most auspicious.

Then the croakers began. He would be opposed by the bondholders, and there was power in money!

Some thought it indispensible that a candidate should be found who can reconcile all differences!

Some fancied that the only way to whip the Radicals was to fight them with a Radical, (as if that would mend the matter) because somebody's great ancestor thought the only way to whip the devil was to fight him with his own fire!

Oh! we must have a military man—one with a war record—he alone can concentrate the disaffected Radicals, who are tired of seeing the Government torn piecemeal, and the liberties of the people threatened with complete subversion, under the plea of extending the area of freedom!

The public record of Mr. Pendleton has been subjected to the severest analysis by pretended Democrats or Conservatives, and the sole weakness discovered in his line of battle, was, that he was not clamorous for war, but was steadfast to the Union and the Constitution. His private character was unassailable, unless on the score that he is a thorough gentleman, sans peur et sans reproche. Their objections, to the reflecting, must seem sans rime et sans raison.

Despite the industrious hunt for a suitable candidate, who can reconcile all differences and can be relied upon for a patriotic, just and statesmanlike administration of the Government, George Hunt Pendleton yet remains far beyond all others, "first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Despite the doubts and apprehensions expressed by those who have ulterior ends to be gained, and hope to have the management of the next administration, the name of Pendleton is still a tower of strength which they upon the adverse faction want."

Had the same efforts been made to concentrate the public mind (that have been made to divert it,) upon him, who has been shown beyond all others to be the general favorite, does it not stand to reason the opposition to Radicalism would have been this day stronger than it is, with its yet unsettled determination, and busy-bodies still hunting up their man?

Mr. Pendleton is positively popular—his views as a statesman and patriot are broad, comprehensive, and in full sympathy with the public heart. His is not that negative popularity which can only obtain success as a dernier resort, to reconcile differences under the availability of extreme moderateness.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

ALBERT PIKE & CO.

Vera Atque Honesta Dicere.

For President of the United States,

ANDREW JOHNSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

Subject only to the decision of the National Democratic Conservative Convention.]

PLATFORM OF THE TENNESSEE DEMOCRACY.

1st. The Conservative men of Tennessee, putting aside all questions decided by the war, accept the title of 'Democrats,' and formally unite themselves with the Democratic party as it now exists.

2d. The question of the right of a State to secede from the Union has been decided by arms, and that decision should be accepted as final and conclusive.

3d. Nevertheless, while the Constitution makes the Federal Government supreme, it is so only with well defined limitations and restrictions, leaving the States large rights and powers over their domestic concerns, and making them co-equal in respect of such rights; and these rights have not been impared by the result of the war, or the powers of the General Government aggrandized by it, to the endangerment of public liberty.

4 th. The extinguishment of African Slavery is recognized as a fact, ratified by a binding Constitutional Amendment.

5 h. The investiture of negroes with the right of suffrage, by the Congress of the United States, and the disfranchisement of white men, by the same authority, is a gross usurpation of power, and a policy unjust, unwise and oppressive, and tending to excite a war of races: the white men of America are entitled to superiority and supremacy in the administration of the Federal and State governments; and any measure intended to deprive them of it, or to divide or impair it, greatly endangers the perpetuity of free republican institutions.

6th. The faith of the nation is pledged to the payment of the national debt, according to the terms of the laws under which the bonds were issued, and not otherwise. The time of payment of the bonds ought not to be extended; the principal of the five-twenty bonds ought to be paid in currency, and the money granted to the National banks to be withdrawn.

7th. The Government bonds should be taxed in the hands of the bondholders, equally with other property.

8th. The doctrines and practices of the Radical party, which endeavors, by encroaching upon the powers of the Executive and Judicial branches of the Government, to absorb in the Legislative Department all powers, tend to the destruction of the R-publican system of Government and the civil liberties of the people.

9th. Equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever State or persuasion, religious or political; peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations; entangling alliances with none; the support of the State Governments in all their rights, as the most competent administration of our domestic concerns and the surest bulwark against anti-Republican tendencies; the preservation of the General Government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheet anchor of peace at home and safety abroad; a jealous care of the rights of election by the people and the supremacy of the civil over the military authority.

10th. Andrew Johnson the first choice of the Democracy of Tennessee; but their Delegates left free to unite in selecting another as the candidate for the Presidency.

MILITARY BRIGANDAGE.

"Truly," says Tacitus, speaking of the occurrences of the reign of Domitian, "the Romans of that age exhibited an uncommon example of patient submission; and as their ancestors had reached the extreme point of liberty, so they experienced the extreme point of slavery, the mutual intercourse of speaking and hearing being destroyed by cruel inquisitions. They would have lost their memories as well as their freedom of speech, if it had been as easy for a tyrant to enjoin, as it was to command silence."

The Historian says of Rome under Domitian: "Her condition was in one respect more miserable now than under Nero, because he had the modesty to withdraw his eyes, and not make himself a witness of those crimes which he had commanded to be executed; while, under Domitian, the Romans were harassed by the perpetual grievance of watching, and being watched by, the tyrant who oppressed them. Almost every countenance was pale with suspicion and fear; and the very sighs of men were observed and registered as proofs of their disaffection. The Emperor deigned to confer with base accusers and witnesses, and assist them in concocting plans of nefarious falsehood. He often conversed alone with prisoners, not venturing to trust the communication to others; but the dastardly inquisitor held their chains in his hands, for fear of suffering the just consequences of their contempt or anger."

That man must be of extraordinary virtue, who, being invested with the powers of despotism over a people lately subjugated, and who have not yet lost all the instincts of freemen, does not soon become a tyrant, and say, with Caligula, "Let them hate me, provided they fear me." Whenever the limits of a despot's authority are left vague and undefined, the appetite for the exercise of power, the impatience of contradiction, and the insolence of tyranny will continually increase, until he whose rule might have been a benefit, becomes the scourge of the people; and his arbitrary power will be abused for the gratification of odious and tyrannical passions. His favorites and confederates will be those only who have no manly freedom of character, but who flatter him by a servile adulation, and encourage him to make his will and caprice the only law.

The French people tore down the Bastille, that symbol or rather incarnation of bloody, cruel tyranny; and the heart of the world leaped with joy, at the destruction of one of the dungeons of despotism. Was a condemnation to imprisonment in the Bastile, by the will of a licentious King or insolent noble, any worse than a condemnation to imprisonment on the Dry Tortugas, by the sentence of one of those Devil's Courts called Military Commissions? Upon our word, of the two, we think the Bastille and even Louis the Fifteenth's iron cage were the more respectable instruments of tyranny. It is a sneaking exercise of arbitrary power, when its victims are carried away in secret, to prevent a hearing of their cases by the Courts.

To be sure, they chopped off men's heads in France, by order of a Revolutionary Tribunal. Our rulers do not do that; but they do what is worse: they condemn to an imprisonment worse than death, and banish the sweet light of hope from the human soul which they torture, that they may enjoy the agonies of its despair. The petty tyrants who send young men in irons to the Dry Tortugas, to die of yellow fever, after toiling as slaves, for a venial misdemeanor, triable by the ordinary Courts of Criminal Justice, are not one-half so despicable as he who has the power to cancel the unrighteous judgment and does not dare to do it, lest he should do himself an injury. The prisoner by sentence of a Court Martial, who dies on the Dry Tortugas, is murdered; and the blood of the murdered cries aloud unto the Lord from the ground.

The tyranny of one born in the purple and inheriting imperial power, is less galling to a generous soul than the tyranny of a snob and the cruelty of a sneak. To many of these two classes the American Congress rejoices to entrust power, by continuing the Freedmen's Bureau, that incarnation of all that is detestable and despicable. If, said Bentham, you would have your establishments useless, two principles will suffice, "superfluity of pay, and liberty of negligence."

Radicalism is the Author and Creator of Military Despotisms. For that let all men in all time hereafter execrate its memory! It is as wholly evil and infamous as Milton deemed Prelacy, when he said, what we are willing to say of Jacobinism, "Though God for less than ten persons would not spare Sodom, yet if you can find after due search, but only one good thing in Prelacy, either to religion or civil government, to King or Parliament, to Prince or People, to law, liberty, wealth or learning, spare her, let her live, let her spread among ye, till, with her shadow, all your dignities and honors, and all the glory of the land be darkened and obscured."

There is now infesting the eastern portion of Arkansas, if he has not been grossly libelled, a small Satrap who is doing every thing in his power to demonstrate to the people that there is nothing so criminal in legislation as the investiture of underlings with arbitrary power. This person is Thomas C. Williams, a native, we understand, of Pennsylvania, Captain in the Army of the United States and Lieutenant Colonel by brevet, who acts the part of a small Cæsar in the country on the St. Francis River, arresting, insulting and imprisoning, and compelling to hard and degrading labor, better men than himself. He is the person who not long since had false charges preferred, on the testimony of a lying negro, against Col. David C Cross, for assault and battery on one of His Highness' Privy Counsellers, a negro freedman: and also caused him to be charged with carrying concealed weapons, when he knew that when Colonel Cross was arrested, he was unarmed, and that the Lieutenant who played the part of catch pole on the occasion, learning that his prisoner had left a little vest-pocket pistol at home, sent him back under a guard to get it, and then took possession of it, since which time its owner has not recovered the chattel so taken as the spoils of glorious bum bailiffism. So it was proven on the trial; and the prisoner was acquitted.

We take the following account of some of the antics of this officer, who makes negroes his confidants and favourites, and employs them as spies, from a communication published some time since in the Avalanche:

Some of this man's recent proceedings are more tyrannical and disgraceful than any known to have been executed by the meanest barbarian despot on record. Some time ago he arrested a Dr. Hughes because the Doctor had intimated that one of Williams' men had stolen a pocket-book containing a few hundred dollars from him. The Doctor was placed in a guard-house with a lot of negro prisoners. During the night one died. Next morning, though quite sick, the Doctor was made to take a pick and shovel, dig a grave for the dead man, then dress and inter him. Colonel Williams afterward admitted, upon hearing an explanation of the case, that he had been too severe with Dr. Hughes.

A gentleman named Bock was arrested upon charges made by a viciously-disposed negro, who stated Mr. Bock had threatened him and prevented his moving his clothing to another place. It turned out that the negro owed Mr. Block a considerable amount for supplies advanced to make his crop, and that the negro was desirous of violating his contract by leaving the fields just planted. Upon hearing of the case Williams arranged a new contract between the parties, and dismissed the negro with orders to buy powder and shot, return to his farm, and if any d—d white man annoyed him, shoot the rascal and come to him for protection.

On another occasion, Williams heard that the District Attorney of Phillips county designed bringing his case before the Grand Jury, and if possible having him indicted. He said if such a thing was attempted, he would arrest the Judge, Jury, attorney and all, and put them in his guard-house.

Again, he released a couple of negroes upon their own recognizance, who were to have been tried by military commission. His soldiers, it is charged, have shot down cattle and hogs belonging to citizens, and he has afforded them no redress. Many other hard things are charged upon this despotic officer, who seems by his conduct to have frightened and intimidated all the people of the country, until they fear to speak of him above a whisper.

In the Monitor, published at Helena, Arkansas, we find a communication which asks:

Wade and Hindman were placed under bond to answer a charge of being members of a Ku-Klux organization, which was sworn to by several witnesses. Whence does this "magnanimous soldier" derive authority to keep men under arrest, for days, and then place them under bond for being members of a "Ku Klux organization?" There is no such offense known to the statutes of this State, and I have seen no orders from Gens. Grant or Gillem against Ku-Kluxes. How could these credible witnesses swear that Wade and Hindman were members of a secret society? Was it magnanimous to force Mr. Hughes to dress and bury a negro, while he was a prisoner? But they say "Mr. Hughes himself expressed his regrets that he had been so unfortunate as to conduct himself in so reprehensible a manner." No doubt he does—but does that show that Williams was acting within the bounds of his authority? What authority has he to force gentlemen to perform the most menial services?

We understand that this petty tyrant compelled one citizen of St. Francis or Cross county to sell out every thing he owned at a great sacrifice, and leave the country within fifteen days; that he advised Col. Cross to leave his country for his country's good; that he has compelled men against whom no charges ever were preferred, to dig graves for negroes; that he arrests them, keeps them imprisoned for days, without charge of any offence, and then discharges them with contumelious insults.

All this is the very licentiousness of a low and vulgar despotism, practised by an upstart clothed with a little brief authority, and playing his fantastic tricks, unrestrained by any considerations of decency or honour.

General Irwin McDowell was, when we served with him in Mexico, a soldier and a gentleman, a man of honor, as we hope he is still. In the name of the outraged people over whom Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel Williams plays the tyrant, aided by his negro parasites and pimps, we call on General McDowell to execute upon him swift and stern justice.

ARKANSAS.

—A communication to the Helena Clarion of the 18th, announces the agreeable fact that Col. D. C. Cross has been "acquitted or discharged by the Military Commission recently in session at Madison. Col. Cross was set at large after a full investigation by the military authorities." We had the pleasure of seeing Col. Cross yesterday, who showed us a dispatch containing a full discharge from all accusations, by Gen. Gillem. Like the Clarion, we, too, "congratulate Col. Cross upon his liberation from the tender mercies of a Military Commisolon."

—The Helena Clarion of the 18th says: Quite a number of our citizens are leaving for Kentucky, Canada, Cape May, and other points, to enjoy the summer. The town is getting dull, dry and dusty. The general health is yet good. A number of delegates leave here next week to attend the New York Convention. They are all Pendleton men.

—A motion for a new trial in the case of the State vs. Jackson, colored, for murder, at Helena, was overruled after an elaborate trial, by Judge Hanks.

—The Little Rock Gazette of the 19th says: The Pulaski county Circuit Court has completed its business for the present term. There are left on the docket untried four hundred and fifty-six civil and thirty-nine criminal cases, making a total of four hundred and ninety-five.

—The Ashley county Times gives notice "that there will be a meeting in the town of Hamburg on the 4th day of July next, for the purpose of devising means for concerted action in aid of the construction of the Mississippi, Ouachita and Red River Railroad.

—The Chicot Press of the 5th says: The corn crop throughout the country is still unprecedented in healthful appearance and vigor of growth. Roasting ears will be abundant in the fields by the 20th of June. Some of the knowing ones predict that it will not be worth fifty cents a bushel. Cotton is slowly recovering from the effects of the lice, which attacked it in such numbers ten days ago, and will now grow off rapidly. In those fields which escaped the late visitation of the said insects, the plant is looking sufficiently thrifty to cheer the hearts of the most despondent.

—The Little Rock Gazette affords this gratifying picture of the punctuality of county officers: "The time for Sheriffs of counties to report to the State Auditor expired on the 1st inst. We learn from Mr. Miller, the Auditor, that all have settled at his office in full, or in part, except a half dozen, only one having failed entirely—the Sheriff of Desha, who has been prevented from completing his collections on account of high water."

—The Arkadelphia Standard says of the crops: The accounts of the crops from all sections of the State are most flattering, and with favorable seasons till maturity, the corn crop will be the most abundant that has ever been raised in Arkansas. Col. Moles, who has just returned from Scott county, informs us that the crops in that county are as fine as he ever saw, and in several of the adjacent counties they are equally promising. The wheat crop in Scott is very fine, and Col. M. has made arrangements with many of the farmers there to bring their wheat to this place, where it can be sold at good prices for seed this fall, the crop in this county proving almost an entire failure. In this county the corn crop is said to be more promising than it has been for ten years, and as a greater breadth of land has been planted in corn than usual, the prospect of an abundant supply of breadstuffs for another year, is most flattering. The cotton crop looks pretty well, though we hear some complaints of lice in some sections.

—Loud complaints were beginning to be heard of drouth in every part of the State, but we hear that most opportune rains have fallen.

TENNESSEE.

—A negro named Wiley has been sentenced to twenty one years in the Penitentiary by the Circuit Court at Chattanooga, for committing an outrage on the person of Mrs. Caroline Rodgers, on the 9 h of April last. If Brownlow should pardon him, he will doubtless be Kuklixed.

—Mr Leo Wheat is at present at Nashville, where he will in a short time give one of his brilliant musical entertainments.

—A celebrated horse thief who had been arrested is reported to have effected his escape by jumping from the cars while being brought to Nashville by the Edgefield and Kentucky Railroad on Wednesday evening.

—The Nashville Banner says: All the Southern States, thus far, that have spoken, of course compliment the President in the warmest terms of commendation. Recapitulating the field thus gone over, it is clear that the all pervading question in the Southern States is "white supremacy." As a general thing all have decided that it is wisest on the part of the South to present no preference to the Convention, while "a white man's government" is the motto of them all, and availability the first consideration in the requisites of the nominee.

Wisdom of Congress.

From the New York Herald.]

UTTER IGNORANCE OF CONGRESS ON FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.

There never was a body of men representing a great nation so utterly ignorant of financial affairs as our Congress. The same may be said, indeed, of the public men generally throughout the country. The Stevenses, Shermans, McCullochs, Pendletons, and the rest, have got hold of some one idea or another about national finance, and they think they know everything and are great statesmen. They are like the man who stole a brick from the Acropolis at Athens, and imagined he had appropriated all the wisdom of Greece. One goes for jumping to specie payments and thus bankrupting the whole country; another for flooding the country with currency and creating a carnival of excitement and gambling, and another for swelling taxation and the list of taxed articles so that no one will be able to understand the law, while the cost of collection will eat up the revenue. The ordinary clerks in any great commission house in this city could do better. Unless the people sift out better material for legislators in the next Congressional elections, we may expect to see a terrible state of financial difficulties.

We do not know a candidate who holds out any such idea.

—This week will be election week in Mississippi—that is, the farce began yesterday. The Issaquena Conservative says: If you would save your country from ruin, your wives and children from degradation, and yourselves from social and political slavery, go to the polls and vote against the infamous Constitution!

—The new brick depot built by the Muscogee and Southwestern Railroad Companies at Butler Ga., was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday morning last. There was a quantity of cotton, osnaburgs and bacon, belonging to the Flint River Factory, consumed.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

Wilson, from the Military Committee reported a joint resolution to drop from the army rolls certain officers absent without leave from their commands, which was passed.

Conness offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Foreign Relations be discharged from the further consideration of the bill from the House for the protection of American citizens abroad.

Sumner objected to its consideration, and Conness gave notice that he would, on to-morrow, ask the Senate to consider it.

Yates called up the bill to admit Colorado into the Union, and after a debate of some length, Morrill, of Vermont, rose and opposed the bill: because, he said, Colorado had not a sufficient population.

Cragin and Nye supported it, and the bill went over with the morning hour.

On the motion of Edmunds, the concurrent resolutions of thanks to Stanton, was ordered to be communicated to him.

Trumbull endeavored to have the veto of the Arkansas bill considered, but Davis having indicated his intention to speak on the subject, Morrill, of Maine, insisted on taking up the special order, which being the Legislative appropriation bill, it was taken up in the Committee of the Whole. The question was on the amendment of the Committee on Appropriations.

But the bill was on Trumbull's motion, and laid aside until to-morrow, and the veto of the Arkansas bill taken up. Davis argued that the bill was unconstitutional, after which the Senate proceeded to vote on the question "shall the bill become a law, notwithstanding the objection of the President?" and the vote resulted, yeas, 30; nays, 7. So the bill becomes a law. The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The Kentucky election case of McKee against Young came up.

Trimble, of Kentucky, opposed the report of the Committee on Elections, and at 12 m., without disposing of it, the House proceeded to the consideration of the business of the morning hour.

A number of bills and joint resolutions were introduced for reference.

Lushridge offered the following:

Resolved, That in the opinion of the House, the interests of the country require that the public debt should be reorganized and reduced to a simple and uniform system more easily understood by the people than it is in its present complicated form, and that the interest of the debt should be reduced, and for that purpose the Committee on Ways and Means be instructed to prepare and report at an early day as possible, a bill providing for the funding of the public debt, and a reduction of the rate of interest thereon, in such a manner and to such an extent that the taxation may be reduced and equalized as far as possible and consistent with good faith to the national creditors and justice to the people. The resolution was agreed to without a division.

Ward moved to reconsider the vote, and lay that motion on the table, which was agreed to.

Price offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Ways and Means be instructed to inquire into the expediency of appropriating $5,000,000 to take up the matured and maturing indebtedness of the United States, which is payable in currency, as the same may become due, said amount to be taken from the coin in the Treasury, to be sold for that purpose, and providing by law that no new indebtedness shall be incurred by the United States, by the sale or issue of its bonds, notes, or other securities, until the coin received in the Treasury is reduced to $25 000,000, and that said committee report by bill or otherwise, which was agreed to.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the report of the Committee of Conference on the bill removing the political disabilities of certain persons in the Southern States, the question being on Broomall's motion to reconsider the vote of Friday last, rejecting the report. The vote was reconsidered and the report was adopted by a two-thirds vote of 98 to 44

[NOTE.—The reporter is requested to state that the Democrats, in voting against the conference report, did so because it struck out the names of Messrs. Houston, of Alabama, and Jones, of Tennessee. Otherwise, a majority of them would have voted aye.]

The Kentucky election case was again taken up, and debated by Beck and Poland against the report of the Committee, and Upson in support of it.

Kerr, from the minority of the Committee on Elections, moved as a substitute a resolution declaring that John D. Young was entitled to the seat, and should be sworn in.

The substitute was rejected—yeas 30, nays 96—and the several resolutions reported by the Committee on Elections were then adopted, without division, and McKee appeared and took the oath and his seat, and the House then, at 4 o'clock, went into a Committee of the Whole, with Blaine in the Chair, and proceeded to the consideration of the tax bill, the general debate being limited to one hour.

Schenck addressed the Committee in explanation of the bill. He stated that in addition to the tax of sixty cents per gallon on distilled spirits, the Committee had provided what it called a special tax, each distiller of fifty barrels or less paying $2 a year as a special tax, and $4 as a further special tax upon each barrel over the fifty.

The tax on retail dealers is fixed at twenty-five and fifty cents on the $2000 and $1000, according to business.

The bill also proposed a tax of $5 per day on each distillery capable of mashing and fermenting 100 bushels of grain each day, and $3 a day for each additional 100 bushels, and adding all the taxes together, he said, the tax would amount to about $1 per gallon, and produce from $65,000,000 to $75 000,000.

The hour for debate having expired, the Clerk proceeeded to read the bill by sections for amendments.

Van Wyck amended the first section by reducing the tax on whisky from 60 to 50 cents, but without action the committee rose, and it was ordered, on motion of Schenck, that the Committee of the Whole take a recess daily from half-past four to half-past seven.

A message was received from the Senate, announcing the passage of the Arkansas bill over the President's veto, and the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The case of John H. Surratt was called in the Criminal Court to-day before Judge Wylie. The District Attorney elected to try the prisoner upon the new indictment for conspiracy, found last week, and the court thereupon ordered the discharge of the prisoner on the indictment for murder, though the District Attorney entered no nolle prosequi. The defense not being ready to proceed under the new indictment, the case was continued until next Monday, and the prisoner held to bail in the sum of $20,000.

The President to-day nominated to the Senate Wm. M. Evarts as United States Attorney General, John C. Ri erson as Consul at St. Thomas, and Edward C. Johnson, son of Hon. Reverdy Johnson, as Assistant Secretary of the United States Legation at London.

The Secretary of the Treasury extends the right of conversion of 7-30's as follows: For those that mature on the 15th of June to the 15th of July, and those that mature on the 15th of July to the 1st of August.

The bondsmen of John Surratt are John H. Boyne, R. H. Trimmel, Aaron Thorn and Michael Shea.

The President has given no intimation to Secretary McCulloch that his resignation as Secretary of the Treasury would be accepted. The relations between him and the President continue friendly, and there is no indication that he will resign, although efforts continue to be made by certain parties to produce that result.

Capt. Mow, of the steamship division of the Treasury Department, left for New York to-night, for the purpose of conferring with the ship owners, and other interested parties, with regard to the bill now pending before Congress regulating the carriage of passengers.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has issued a circular letter to the various offices instructing the forwarding of contributions to the proposed National collection of Geological and mineralogical specimens.

The bill now before the House Committee on Military Affairs proposes to continue the pay of army officers the same that it has been for the past two years.

Col. Hatch, of Boston, in behalf of Thos. Spencer, an American citizen, residing in Hilo, Sandwich Islands, presented to Gen. Grant this morning a cabinet of volcanic specimens, which he has been collecting for the past twenty years.

The flagship Gurriere, of the South Atlantic squadron, arrived at Rio Janeiro May 18th. The Kearsage, bound for the Pacific, was off Montevideo May 13th. The steamship Supply was to leave Cape Town on the 18th of April for Boston, having on board the remains of Admiral Bell and Lieut.-Commanders Reed and McKenzie.

TWENTY-THIRD DAY—Tuesday.—Sun rises 5:01; sets 7:54.

Saints.—St. Ethelreda, abbess of Ely, 679; St. Mary of Oignies, 1213.

Born.—Bishop John Fell, 1625; Gottfried Leibnitz, the historian, 1646, Leipsic.

Died.—Louis Le Debonnaire of France, 840; Mary Tudor, Duchess of Suffolk, 1533; Lord Campbell, Lord Chancellor of England, 1861.

THE WEEKLY APPEAL will be sent to the country to-morrow with its customary punctuality, filled with a vast variety of interesting reading matter. Those who desire to send a paper from this city to their friends abroad, can procure it at the countingroom, neatly done up in wrappers.

CAYCE & Co. will offer for sale this morning ten bales good hay. Sale to commence at 10 o'clock, No. 298 Second street.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.—The adjourned meeting of the Chamber of Commerce for 12 o'clock yesterday was but slimly attended—in fact there was no quorum, and the six or eight "faithful" who were gathered together, after waiting for some time, left supremely disgusted.

THE DRIVEN WELL.—Some very curious natural phenomena are daily exhibited in the "driven well" which is being sunk in Court Square, if the phenomena are natural. We have, up to yesterday, taken the statements of the party driving the well for correct; but were led to have our doubts of them yesterday, by a little "shenanigan" operation which we witnessed.

OFFICE FURNITURE AT AUCTION. The Messrs. Cayce & Co. will sell this morning at 10 o'clock, one iron safe, one double desk and stools, office chairs, cotton table, rope matting, window blinds, one fine letter press, one water cooler, bedsteads, mattresses, round tables, etc., all of which will be sold. Parties going away and want money. Don't fail to be at the Arcade, 298 Second street.

NEW BOAT CLUBS.—We understand that three new boat clubs have been organized among the young men of our city, named respectively the Memphis, DeSoto and the Athletic Boat Clubs. They are daily practicing on the river, and hope soon to acquire a proficiency in aquatic sports which will enable them to compete even with the clubs that held the regatta at Mound City a short time back.

EVERY time a train comes in on either of the great Eastern or Northern routes, Emmons & Son are sure to have a part, at least, of one car loaded with their immense variety of books and papers. Among the receipts yesterday were Lippincott's Magazine, Putnam, Every Saturday, Italian, French and German papers, London News, London Times, London Punch, River Side Magazine, London Art Journal, Days Doings, and all the dailies. Call at either place, No. 10 Jefferson street, or 393 Main street.

ST. AGNES ACADEMY.—The Sisters hope to see their beautiful and spacious building full of the relatives and friends of their pupils at the annual concert of this excellent school, which comes off this evening. We have already taken occasion to refer to the programme, and will only say that from the music that we have heard from some of the young ladies, we can safely promise an evening of unalloyed pleasure. Cars will run from the head of Beal street, starting at 7 o'clock, in order to give parties living on that street an opportunity of attending. The other street cars will also make regular trips until after the performance is over.

IT WILL be seen from the report of the proceedings of the Board of Aldermen, which met yesterday evening for that purpose, that they passed an ordinance on its first reading to widen the sidewalk on DeSoto street. A special meeting of the Board is called for this evening at 5 o'clock, to put the ordinance on its final passage; and as this is certainly a highly proper and important matter, it is hoped that the friends of the measure in the Board will be promptly on hand—the more so, as the curbing is already being put up. The ordinance provides for widening the pavement between Union and South. There will be more road-bed room after the Nicholson is put down, even with the sidewalks widened, than now; and any one who has been along the little narrow paths, called sidewalks, on DeSoto, with its teaming foot passengers, will at once recognize the wisdom of the proposed ordinance.

PERSONAL.

—The Hon. Robt. W. Johnson, of Arkansas, and his beautiful daughter, left the city yesterday for Louisville, Ky.

—Col. C. S. Cameron, the able and eloquent Democratic orator, is on a visit to Memphis, from his new home in Cross county, Arkansas. He will return today.

—Mr. J. S. Wells, late of Kansas, goes to New Orleans to-day to go into business. We wish him much success.

—Geo. Barrie, Esq., of the Book Publishing House of J. B. Lippincott & Co., of Philadelphia, is in our city, on business for the great firm that he represents.

—Col. S. B. Beaumont has gone on a visit to Little Rock, Ark.

—Col. J. W. Jefferson, of No. 270 Front street, left yesterday by rail for the prairies of Wisconsin, where he will spend the summer.

—Mr. S. H. Tobey, of the Memphis City Savings Institution, was a passenger on the City of Cairo yesterday for St. Louis. He will spend a few weeks at the watering places, and return with renewed vigor to his duties at the bank.

A DISHONEST AGENT.

Breach of Trust Involving Several Thousand Dollars' Worth of Jewelry.

Mr. Julius Wagner, who kept the little jewelry establishment next door to the Memphis and Louisville ticket office, near the corner of Jefferson and Main streets, left the city some few weeks ago to go to Omaha, Neb. He left his business in the hands of his wife, Mrs. Wagner, who keeps a grocery store on the corner of Madison and DeSoto streets, appointing as an agent to attend to it, a young German, named Lawrence Bauman, a jeweler, who had been in his employ some months. Mrs. Wagner having as much as she could conveniently attend to at home, left the whole business in Bauman's hands, giving him the keys to everything, and trusting him implicitly in all things. A book was given him in which to enter all business done by him, and he was only required to bring home to her every evening a sort of resume of the day's work. For a few days all went well, but the trust proved too great for Bauman's weak morals. He soon fell into bad habits, and was constantly to be found in the faro and keno rooms; he failed to bring home his accounts, and on various pretexts at different times obtained ready money from Mrs. Wegner. On Saturday morning last he went up to Mrs. Wagner's, where he boarded, (sleeping in the shop on Main street,) and told her that he had a chance to buy some gold cheap, and for this purpose obtained several dollars from her. Saturday evening he did not come up to the house as usual, and Mrs. Wagner sent her brother to look for him. He found him at the faro bank, No. 40 Jefferson street, and tried to get him to go to the house with him; he did not succeed, and between two and three o'clock next morning he was seen playing keno in a bank near by.

Sunday morning he did not show himself at the house, and about midday Mrs. Wagner went down to the shop and found the doors locked. She sent for a lock smith and had the door opened, and found, instead of a well stocked jewelry store, literally a beggarly account of empty boxes—the show-cases, strong boxes and shelves all empty—"every pretty bauble gone." For a moment she was staggered—she could scarcely believe her senses; but the evidences that she had been robbed were all too apparent, and she went to police headquarters and laid complaint—too late, however, to catch the bird, which had long since flown with the plunder, consisting of pearls, diamonds, watches, rings, trinkets, etc., besides several hundred dollars' worth of tools and instruments, amounting in all to the value of between two and three thousand dollars.

Bauman is about twenty seven years old, five feet seven inches in hight, spare built, light hair and blue eyes, and speaks scarcely any English, having been in this country only five months. It is supposed, from facts which we are requested for obvious reasons to withhold, that he will try to make his way to Chicago and thence to New York, where he has relations.

POLICE ITEMS.

—There were but three "State cases" reported at the Justices' Courts yesterday, and both of these 'Squire Griffith had.

—Rachel Polk and Chas. Polk, two negroes who live on President's Island, were before 'Squire Griffith at the instance of John Wesley, another negro, charged with stealing and killing a hog belonging to him. Wesley, it appears, owed Polk five dollars, which the latter not being able to collect, sent his "ole ooman" down to seize the hog for. She drove the hog off to their shanty, and kept it for several days, sending word to Wesley that "de hog was dar." On the tenth day, the owner not coming to reclaim it, the hog was killed, and the meat cooked up with the hominy of the young Polks. John Wesley then "had the dead wood on Polk," and had him arrested and brought before the 'Squire, where he acknowledged the truth of the allegations. The 'Squire sent him and the witness before the Grand Jury.

—A. Spird was sent to the Criminal Court, under $1000 bonds, under charge of fraud and obtaining money under false pretenses. He sold a pair of shoes to a man, which were not mates, and on the party bringing them back, refused to rectify the mistake or return the money.

—"Miss" Minerva Greece, a sable nymph, had Judge Hotter, a thick-lipped, kinky-haired specimen of the "man and brother," arrested on a peace warrant for threatening to "have her blood" and "scaring her to def wid a pistol." Hotter was, like Byron, a lover of Greece, and she, like Desdemona, to his suit favorably inclined, but did not wish to give up just then her freedom; but the more coy was she, the hotter was the flame of Hotter,—he wished to possess himself of that fair hand, ere "decay's effacing fingers had swept the lines where beauty lingers." He became jealous and upbraided her with loving another; she retorted, and he left the house,—left to procure a pistol, and returned swearing that though she were Greece, she should be "living Greece no more." She "swounded," and when she "came to," put for a constable and had the rampant Hotter arrested. He was bound over in the sum of $1000 to keep the peace towards Minerva for six months, in default of which he goes to jail—which probably will make Hotter cooler.

—The store of Messrs. Walcott & Smith, No. 8 Howard Row, was entered about three o'clock yesterday morning through the front door, which was left open, and robbed of twenty sacks of coffee, seven caddies of tobacco and some hams, amounting in all to about $1000 in value.

—There were only four arrests in the whole city up to eight o'clock last night—two of them in the First, and two in the Second District.

—Nelson Dickinson stole a passbook from C. A. Beecher, on Madison street, and went with it to a store and purchased quite a bill of groceries. He was arrested and lodged in Adams street station, charged with obtaining goods under false pretenses.

CITY COUNCIL.

Proceedings of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen.

A called meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen convened at City Hall yesterday, June 22d. There were present Hon. J. D. Ruffin, Acting Mayor, Aldermen Powers, Johnson, Black, McGevenev, Brown, O'Donnell, Holst, Cicalla, Renner, Ellis, Moffatt and Passmore.

Alderman Johnson took the chair, on motion, and called the Board to order. The roll was called, and the object of the meeting was announced, which was for the purpose of widening the sidewalks of DeSoto street, as set forth in the following message from the Mayor:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, CITY HALL,
MEMPHIS, TENN., June 22, 1868.

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen:

You have been called together at the instance of three Aldermen, Messrs. Johnson, Renner and Cicalla, to take action upon a petition of several citizens, relative to widening the sidewalks upon DeSoto street, before the pavement is laid down. The petition is herewith communicated.

Very Respectfully,
J. D. RUFFIN, Mayor pro tem.

In connection with the foregoing, the following petition was read:

MEMPHIS, June 22, 1868.

The undersigned, property-holders on DeSoto street, would respectfully show to your honorable body that the sidewalks on said street are totally inadequate to accommodate the great amount of travel on foot through that street, and would petition your honorable body to pass an ordinance adding eight inches to the sidewalk on each side of said street, taking the same off of the road bed. The sidewalks on said street are perhaps wide enough from Madison to Union streets; therefore your petitioners would make this their prayer apply to that portion of the street lying between Union and South streets, and ask that the ordinance be at once passed, as the curbing is now being put down prior to paving same with Nicholson pavement.

B. L. KERR,
JNO. H. HARTLEY,
H. J. SHAW, and others.

The following resolution was then offered by Alderman Passmore:

Be it ordained, etc., That the sidewalks on DeSoto street be increased in width eighteen inches from Union street south, at the expense of the property holders.

Passed at first reading, and the Board adjourned.

THE DOINGS OF A MEMPHIS CONFIDENCE MAN.

A Sharp Game and How it was Frustrated.

The following, taken from a St. Louis paper of a late date, will be read with interest by our merchants generally, some of whom have reason to remember a few local operations of the same party:

A man named Kirtland, representing himself as belonging to the firm of Kirtland & Pollard, of Memphis, Tenn., came to St. Louis some time ago, and after remaining about three weeks, looking around promiscuously, met a man named Wiggins, who suggested to him the propriety of buying a lot of goods and shipping them South. Kirtland did so, and purchased from Wm. N. McQuesen, provision dealer, and Roedler & Bangs' flour house, goods to the amount of about $7000, giving in payment therefor drafts on his house in Memphis, to which point the goods were to be conveyed. Thinking, however, that something might be wrong, the merchants shipped the goods to their own commission houses, subject to their orders. By some false representations the goods, however, were landed at Columbus. Thus far it was plain sailing, for the bills of lading, which would have required their delivery at Memphis, had not been signed until the boat left St. Louis, and then they were signed by Capt. Henry W. Smith, the President of the line; so the captain of the Marble City had no discretion in the matter.

A third party now comes into action, Wm. Crampton by name, who presents an order from Kirtland & Pollard to Wm. Halliday & Co., wharfboatmen at Columbus, requiring them to deliver the goods to him. Suspicion becoming aroused, this firm telegraphed to Capt. Smith for instructions. He immediately replied to them, advising that the goods should be returned, which was done. Kirtland, who had followed leisurely after his investment, returned immediately when the worst came about, and called upon Capt. Smith, in company with Wiggins, for an explanation. Capt. Smith invited them to walk with him to Capt. Fenn's office, and the matter should be investigated there. Col. Fenn was not in at the time of the call, and, in waiting, the men grew uneasy, but still demanded the goods. They held Halliday's warehouse receipt for them, and, until that was given up, Capt. Smith was responsible for the goods. At last he told them bluntly to deliver the receipt, or chose a more disagreeable alternative. They hesitated at first, thought the matter over, and gave it readily at last, without further ceremony.

The above facts, which clearly indicate that a pretty sharp game was frustrated, we obtained from Capt. H. W. Smith, and there can be no doubt of their correctness.

HERNANDO, MISS., June 19, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

I would call the attention of the public to a little management of the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad. In going from this place to Raims' crossing, seven miles from Memphis, the conductors are instructed to require the full fare to Memphis. Now, sir, this is the accommodation train, a train that stops every where on the road that a passenger can be picked up at. If this is just, then the word has lost its former signification.

The Clerk and Master will take an account to-day in the case of Irby vs. Hart.

LAW COURT—James O. Pierce, Judge—Stands adjourned until Monday, June 29, 1868. All witnesses and jurors heretofore summoned will appear on Monday next, above mentioned.

CRIMINAL COURT—Wm. Hunter, Judge.—The case of the State vs. John Garvin, murder, will be called up for trial to-day. The case of the State vs. M. Gallagher, murder, has been set for trial on Monday next, June 29, 1868. The jury in the case of the State vs. Kendall, larceny, returned a verdict of guilty, and fixed the period of imprisonment in the Penitentiary at three years. The case of the State vs. Jerry Adams, perjury, was called up on trial on yesterday. The jury had not returned a verdict up to a late hour last evening. The peremptory call of the cases set for the week will be made to day.

MUNICIPAL COURT—Geo. W. Waldran, Judge.—The jury in the case of the State vs. Hudgens, indictment for passing toll gate without paying toll, returned a verdict of not guilty. This is one of the toll gates on Nonconnah Creek, which blockade the county bridges. 1722 The State vs J. J. Murphy.
11 9 Same vs H. McDonough.
467 to 471 Same vs Warner M dison.

The following order was made by the Court: "Ordered, that all files of papers in the hands of attorneys or others shall be returned to the Clerk's office by Thursday next." Unless this is done the Clerk will be unable to make up his dockets for the next (July) term of the Court.

SHELBY CIRCUIT COURT—George W. Reeves, Judge.—The contested election case of Garvin vs. McLean was taken up on argument on yesterday. A new suit seems to have been instituted in this court by Mr. Garvin against McLean. The argument in the case of Woodward vs. Wickersham, contested election, was also heard. No decision has been given in these cases. Should the above cases be disposed of in time, the trial docket will be taken up at case No. 200 to 240 inclusive.

BANKRUPTCY COURT.—T. J. Latham, Register,—The following final discharges were issued yesterday: J. L. Foresyth, R. C. Hite, A. J. Long, B. F. Tatum, Martin Van Buren Thomas.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

Yesterday was another cool and pleasant day, but quite an unseasonable one. The river fell 6 inches in the past 24 hours, and is now not less than 18 or 20 feet below the late high water mark. Heavy rains have fallen to the North of us, and nearly all the upper rivers are rising. The latest news will be found in our telegraphic columns. White river is falling fast, with 7 feet to Augusta. The Little Rock Gazette of the 20th says: The river has risen 8 inches during the last 48 hours. This is the result of the rise at Fort Smith—reported by the steamer Van Buren. We do not anticipate a total rise of more than 12 inches.

MISCELLANEOUS.

There is no packet for St. Louis to-day. The next regular packet for that point will be the Marble City, leaving on Thursday. Capt. Dan Conway commands.

The ever reliable Commercial, Capt. W. J. Ashford, is the regular packet for all points on White river this evening. She connects at DeVall's Bluff with trains for Little Rock, and stages for the Hot Springs. Through tickets to any of the points mentioned can be obtained on the Commercial. Chas. Smithers is purser.

The famous Belle Lee, Capt. A McGill, is due here to-day bound for New Orleans, and will leave the City Wharfboat at noon. Adolph Martin holds forth in the office.

The Pauline Carroll and Frank Pargoud passed down yesterday—the former loaded heavily and the latter with a moderate trip. The Pargoud made the trip from Cairo to this port in seventeen hours and thirty minutes, making several landings, taking on 400 sacks of corn at one point.

The low-pressure packet Richmond, Capt. J. Scot. Neal, will be in port this evening, and leaves at 6 o'clock for Cairo and Louisville. She is the great passenger packet of the West, and has no superior anywhere. Woolfolk and Lodge are her clerks.

The W. A. Caldwell, Capt. Haynes, leaves on Thursday for the Arkansas. She came in yesterday with a fair trip. Mr. Jack Chambers, her clerk, informs us that he is selling through tickets to the Hot Springs, having a line of spring coaches in connection with his boat.

The Lady Grace, bound up the Ohio, and the Leonora, bound down, collided on Thursday night, nearly opposite Milton, Ky. The Leonora sustained considerable injury, having one whole side of her guards taken off from stem to stern. The Lady Grace was not hurt, but proceeded on her way to Cincinnati.

The steamer Northern Belle, with the Illinois press association excursionists, numbering about forty editors and thirty ladies arrived at St. Paul on Sunday.

The Legal Tender leaves Louisville today for New Orleans. She has been repainted and a saddle put on the mule which decorates her pilothouse.

The St. Louis, Miami and Lexington packet company will next season adopt the restaurant plan of victualing passengers. It will be introduced on the Chester packet Adam Jacobs in a few days.

The upper Mississippi steamers go out of and come into St. Louis loaded to the guards with freight and covered with people.

The towboat Leroy exploded in New York harbor on the 20th, killing three men. She was racing with another tug.

Every boat leaving this port, going North, carries off some of our well known citizens, who are seeking cooler breezes and recreation, after the seasons of business. The City of Cairo had a good passenger trip yesterday, for St. Louis.

An exchange says that a bridge is to be built over the Mississippi at Paducah. A long reach, that!

We fully indorse the following, from the Little Rock Gazette:

"The Arkansas river packet company's steamers are all doing a thriving business, which is gratifying to us all, for the officers and crew of this line, from the Superintendent down to the roustabouts, are of us, and are all old time steamboatmen on this river; and through a long series of years, have built up reputations for honor and integrity that commands the confidence of business men,

Our Latest Improved

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positive-ss, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpractised ear and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep6 dawly

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

NEW YORK, June 22.—An excursion wagon, containing twenty-five persons, was run away with by the team attached to it, on Graham avenue, yesterday, and upset, the whole party being thrown into the street and severely injured.

The building now being erected at Jones' Wood, for use during the Schutz enfest, is a very substantial one, and will cost $5000.

A London banker, named George W. Belding, of the firm of Belding & Keith, No. 80 Lombard street, London, committed suicide yesterday morning in his cell, in the Ludwig street jail, where he was confined on a civil process. His firm, which did a very considerable American business, failed sometime ago. He telegraphed to a Boston creditor that he would come to this country for the purpose of effecting a compromise. On his arrival the Boston creditor immediately caused his arrest. His wife and two children are momentarily expected from England.

An unknown man entered the front hall of Father Quinn's residence early yesterday morning, and, sitting down against the door, blew his brains out with a pistol.

Five cases of sunstroke occurred in this city and one in Brooklyn, yesterday, two in this city proving fatal.

A mad dog was killed on Washington street Saturday evening.

Two men were drowned in Harlem river, near Farmer's bridge, while rowing on Sundsy.

A young woman named Ann Moran was arrested in Brooklyn on Saturday night, on suspicion of having murdered Bridget Coffee, in the tenement house No. 4 Julia street.

A Panama letter of the 13th states that an earthquake visited Chiriqne on the 1st of last month.

Rice, the American Consul at Aspinwall, had departed for home without officially apprising the President of Panama of the fact, and the Vice Consul, whom he left in charge of affairs, is consequently not recognized as the ad interim Consul by the State authorities, although instructions were received from Bogota requiring an acknowledgement in such cases, some time before.

MONTREAL, June 20.—The heat since last Sunday has been intense, the thermometer ranging from 93° to 100° in the shade. There were two fatal cases of sunstroke here yesterday. There have been over thirty minor cases.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, June 22, 1868.

The money market is equally as easy and currency as plentiful as at the close of our last weekly review. The excess of currency over the demand and the confidence, which is general, that the coming crops will be very much above the average, thereby requiring increased facilities for transportation has caused the attention of capitalists to be turned toward railroad stocks, the demand for which has been active during the week. The future will justify this confidence in roads centering in our city, and when the road extending to Little Rock is finished, which it will be by the first of January next, the increase of traffic will be so great as to be a matter of astonishment that it has been so long delayed. Parties from the city are now, we learn, in Little Rock, and will make an effort to get an appropriation for the road which will, no doubt, be successful, as the people of that State are more directly interested than any others in its speedy construction. Meantime the bonds have gone up and are firm. We quote 1st Mortgage, 40c; Navy bonds, 52c. Other stocks and bonds are firm and tending upward. Memphis and Ohio Railroad stock, 10s; 1st Mortgage bonds 10s, 30s; 2d Mortgage bonds 6s, 20s; Mississippi Central Railroad bonds, 1st Mortgage, 57 to 58c; 2d Mortgage, 40 to 41c; Mississippi and Tennessee 1st Mortgage, 50s; Mississippi and Tennessee 2d Mortgage, 33c.

The Exchange market is inclined to heaviness. Offerings are fully equal to, if not in excess of the demand. Our discount houses buy Eastern at par, and sell on New York at ¼ premium. Selling on Louisville, Nashville, St. Louis and Cincinnati at ¼ premium.

Gold has been tolerably steady during the week, with light transactions in this market. A comparison of the probable supply of gold for June and July shows that it will exceed that for the same months of last year by $23,600,000. There is no reason for supposing that either the customs payments, or the exports of specie for the two months will vary materially from last year. The specie exports for the expired portion of June are much above those for the same period of 1867; but on the other hand, the shipments of July last year were unusually high, and much above what there is any reason for expecting them to prove this year, the New York specie exports for that month being $14,300,000. A large proportion of the loan of 1868 is held abroad, and the proceeds of the redemption will have to be remitted; but foreign bankers generally anticipate that fully three-fourths of the amount will be reinvested in other bonds, so that there can hardly be reckoned as an element in the exports of gold. The premium in New York closed to-day at 141¾. We quote at 138½ to 139 buying. Selling at 140.

City Scrip is quiet, though there is a falling off in the demand. Buyers offer 75c and sell at 80s. A lot, however, of any size could find a purchaser among brokers at 77c.

City Bonds are higher to-day. The demand has improved. Several sales occurred at 54 to 55c, closing firm at the latter figure.

County Warrants hold their own, but are weak. Dealers are slow to buy at 60. Selling at 63 to 65c.

Police Scrip is dull. We quote at 80 buying. Selling at 85c.

The cotton market, which at the close of our last week's review was dull and irregular, has improved materially during the week, opening firm in Liverpool on Tuesday at 10⅞ to 10¾d for Orleans. The advance was steady in both New York and Liverpool, reaching 11⅛ to 11¼d in the latter market, and 31½ for Middlings in New York, but closing at 31c.

The Liverpool market to-day was easier at the opening. Uplands, 11¼d; Orleans, 11¼d. At noon the market was quiet, but steady, and at the close was easier. Sales 10,000 bales. Uplands, 11⅜ to 11½d; Orleans, 11⅝ to 11¾d.

The New York market of to-day opened quiet, out firm. Middlings, 31c. At noon it was dull. Middlings nominally 31c, and at 2 p.m. was dull and lower. Middlings, 30½c. There was no change at the close. Sales, 500 bales.

In this market prices have been quite irregular. At the opening 27½ to 28c was considered outside figures for Middlings, but as the other markets advanced holders became sanguine and on Saturday were asking 30 to 31c for Middlings. Of the small stock yet on hand only a very small proportion is of this grade. A factor to-day succeeded in finding 8 bales of Middling to Strict, which he took at 30c, and 5 bales Middling at 29½, which give about as accurate an idea of prices as we can get at, though some holders are asking higher. For the week ending the 20th inst., the sales in Liverpool amounted to 89 000 bales. Of this amount 15,000 were taken for export, and 11,000 by speculators. This shows an increase of 13 000 bales over the sales of last week—13,000 in exports and 4000 to speculators. The stock on hand on that date was 610,000, of which 364,000 were American, or a decrease in total stock of 69,000, and in American 18,000 bales. There was afloat at the same time 561,000 bales, of which 71,000 are American—an increase of the stock afloat of 74,000 bales. The American stock afloat showed a decrease of 3000 bales. The receipts for the week ending Saturday last in New York were 3650 bales, or a decrease of 70 bales from the preceding week. Sales, 15 000 bales for the week—an increase of 9000 bales. Stock on hand 55,500, or a decrease of 9500 bales for the week. The receipts for the week at all United States ports were 3700 bales, showing an increase over the preceding week of 200 bales.

Wholesale Market.

The weather, except during the two last days of the week, has been propitious for the growing crops, but heavy storms have prevailed within a few day which have done great damage to corn, cotton and wheat in many sections. The weather we now have is calculated to do a very great injury to the young cotton—breeding lice and cut worms. The latter are already at work on several places in Arkansas, North Mississippi and in this State. A change to the hot sunshine of a week ago would relieve the plants and kill the vermin, which otherwise will prove destructive. Wheat comes in as yet but slowly. The Mollie Hambleton brought a few small consignments from the St. Francis, which as a general thing was shipped to points above, our mills not yet being in full operation. There is some little speculation as to the prices which wheat will bring during the season, but so far there is no definite data upon which to base opinions.

The meat market during the week has stiffened up and prices are better. The advance is attributed to the light stock in all the leading markets. The demand, however, is not as great as it usually is at this season of the year, and holders find it difficult to get up in prices.

The Dry Goods market is quiet, but prices are tolerably firm. Stocks are fair as to quantity, and are being reduced steadily. Our merchants will be well sold out by the time fall trade sets in. Prices are very low when compared with the New York market, and our dealers are disposed to be as liberal as the nature of the times will justify. We have no change to make in our quotations of last week.

The boot and shoe trade has not revived any during the week, though there is a constant drain made to fill out country and local retail stocks. Prices are firm on all kinds of wear, and will soon take a step upward.

The produce market is well supplied with all things in that line, except onions. New potatoes come in freely and are taken for shipment. They keep much better now than they did a week or two ago, and dealers are not afraid to handle them. In this connection it will be proper for us to caution our planters who raise for market, that where the potato is left exposed to the sun even for a few hours after digging, that they spoil much quicker than they otherwise would do, and such as show sun marks are not bought by shippers, as they require careful picking over.

Corn is rather dull and some lower than last week. This is also the case with oats.

The grocery market is quiet and prices firm.

We have no activity to report in the live stock market. There is only a light local demand and prices are irregular.
